COWLECTIVE Online Kick-off

The consortium of the project will implement a series of activities, and the main expected products of the project will be:

1. A Mobile report about social and environmental entrepreneurs' skills demand according to representatives from the sector, entrepreneurs, trainers, and assessor, a Mobile report about social and environmental entrepreneurs' skills demands.
2. A COWLECTIVE training package on the main skills needed by entrepreneurs to raise their companies' social and environmental positive impact. This training will be developed on an online platform, including social modules for a higher degree of collaboration and interaction.
3. A COWLECTIVE learning method for social impact, including recommendations on the training package, collective learning tools, and network.

The partners also discussed the aims, tasks, responsibilities, and deadlines of the three parts of Intellectual Output 1. This was a joint effort by four of the partners: Coworking Plus, DIAS, CWEP, and MEUS. Furthermore, project management, together with administrative, financial issues, and management groups, were established.

The dissemination plan and the logo, website, leaflet, newsletters, articles, social media, indicators, stakeholder involvement, etc. were presented by CWEP, followed by a detailed presentation of the evaluation plan with activities and indicators by DIAS. The evaluation will cover the entire duration of the project, and by analyzing all aspects of the process, it will also function as a monitoring and control tool.
