

Positive and negative aspects of Coworking

Coworking is an alternative to a traditional office and working from an apartment or other place e.g. from a café. This is great for smaller teams that need a temporary or creative place to work. Until now, the term coworking has been about open spaces with desks. Today, however, it is increasingly the term for an organized common space with separate business premises. This type of solution is becoming more common and has many advantages. However, it is also worth noting that this is not a place where everyone will feel good.

The following are the advantages and disadvantages of coworking:

ADVANTAGES	DISADVANTAGES
Sharing economy (optimizing rental costs)	No privacy
Cooperation with people from different industries (possibility to get new customers and get help in different fields)	Possible difficulty concentration
Motivation and development	Limited space
Flexibility – short rental periods
Easy access to various rooms including meeting rooms
Networking
