

COWLECTIVE: Developing a collaborative social impact method and associated training for entrepreneurs in coworking contexts

About the project

Start: 01.11.2020

Assistance program: ERASMUS+

Project number: 2020-1-DK01-KA202-075071

Duration: 24-month Erasmus+

EU project that includes 5 organizations from 5 European countries (Denmark, Poland, Spain, Greece and Italy).

The main objective of COWLECTIVE is to meet the training needs of entrepreneurs in coworking spaces in key transversal skills based on new updated research and to strengthen their business in terms of social and environmental impact.

The Cowlective partnership is strictly oriented towards the development of basic and innovative learning methods that best foster business success, responding to the need for education and training through an innovative proposal based on participation and ICT.

Throughout the project work, the partnership will ensure the delivery of the necessary inputs by developing the results in phases called "intellectual outputs":

- IO1 – Mobile report about social and environmental entrepreneurs skills demand according to representatives from the sector
- IO2 – Development of the COWLECTIVE training package
- IO3 – COWLECTIVE learning method for social impact

The project is aimed at the following target group:

- entrepreneurs in a coworking context, as well as future and wanna-be entrepreneurs in VET and C-VET contexts (mostly aged 25-40)
- all organisations that provide VET and C-VET training as well as services of support to entrepreneurs (i.e. co-working spaces, schools, entrepreneurs associations, chambers, incubators; local or regional institutions)

Furthermore, the consortium will strongly encourage broad distribution and usage of the intellectual outputs among relevant experts as well as individuals providing their expertise and sharing the project results on piloting events, national events.
